The steer sold for 55 cents a pound.

Marion Kitzmiller, 19, received $327.25 for his 850-pound reserve champion steer. It also was bought by Mr. John Liber for Alesi's Market here.

Tom Wallace is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Olen Wallace, and Marion Kitzmiller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kitzmiller.

Fifty-two steers were auctioned off last night at an average of 28½ cents a pound, or a total of $13,102.87.

John Hively of New Waterford RD. steer won the prize for the steer which gained the most weight, 685 pounds.

Marion Kitzmiller was runnerup to Tom Wallace in the heavy steer class, and was winner in the light-weight class, with George Pisarsky of Highlandtown runnerup. Kitzmiller's steer sold for 38½ cents per pound.

Attendance Wednesday was 3,000, according to Clarence Crosser, fair board secretary, hiking the total for the first two days of fair activities to 13,000.

This morning's program began with cattle judging (open class and a heavy draft horse pulling contest).

Pony judging was scheduled for this afternoon, with the Columbiana County Talent Show set for 8 tonight.

U.N. Looking to End of Session

Norwegian Resolution Modified by Group

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly headed today toward a quick end to its emergency session after formulations of a four-point Arab plan to bring peace to the Middle East.

Western diplomats predicted unanimous support of the 81 Assembly members for the resolution drawn up Wednesday night in a rare show of unanimity by the 16 Arab nations in the U.N.

The plan was an Arab modification of a Western-backed Norwegian resolution now pending before the Assembly, and both contained key points suggested by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and President Eisenhower. But the Arab resolution shied away from specific endorsement of earlier proposals for either a U.N. police force or more U.N. observers in the Middle East.

Like the Norwegian resolution, the Arab proposal calls on Hammarskjöld to make arrangements that would permit withdrawal of U.S. troops from Lebanon and British forces from Jordan.

A new feature is a reaffirmation of the Arab nations' previous pledges not to interfere in each others' affairs, pledges which the Lebanese and Jordanian governments have charged President Nasser's United Arab Republic with ignoring consistently.

The plan was cabled to the Arab capitals for approval. If this last hurdle is cleared, the resolution might be presented to the Assembly today, an Arab spokesman said. If it is adopted, the session might end tonight or Friday.

An American spokesman said the U.S. delegation "thoroughly approves the Arab countries' trying to deal themselves with the problem of protecting the independence of each of them." But he stopped short of outright endorsement.

United States Set To Suspend A-Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) today cheered a report that the United States is about ready to announce a temporary suspension of nuclear weapons testing.

Humphrey, chairman of the Senate Disarmament subcommittee, said in an interview his staff had been informed such a step was under consideration. "A temporary suspension on our part as a prelude to negotiation of a safeguarded agreement would be good, sound public policy," Humphrey said. "It would win us friends around the world, and put us out in front in the disarmament field."

The White House declined either to confirm or deny the report, which came Wednesday night from an informed source.

The source, asking to remain anonymous, said the government hopes a temporary halt might pave the way to a permanent international agreement for a test suspension, with adequate safeguards.

The United States has been conducting a test series in the Pacific. These tests began last spring and are scheduled to end soon.

The Soviet Union announced a unilateral test suspension last March at the end of a test series. Britain has been preparing to start a new series of tests in the Pacific.

Scientists from both Western and Communist nations announced agreement Tuesday on a technical system for policing any test suspension. This agreement was reached in seven weeks of talk in Geneva, Switzerland.

Five Captured After Holdup At Lake Milton

Police Nab Quintet In Boardman Following $100 Cafe Robbery

Three men and two 17-year-old boys from Youngstown were arrested by law enforcement officers shortly after 3 a. m. today following the armed robbery of the Blue Ridge Cafe on Rt. 18 near Lake Milton.

The Canfield barracks of the highway patrol reported that the men walked into the tavern around 2 a. m., ordered drinks, and then pulled a pistol on the owner, Joseph Liptak, of RD 1, North Jackson.

They ordered Liptak to hand over the money, threatening to "blow your brains out." Patrolmen said that while John Morris, 24, of 437 S. Pearl St., held the pistol on the owner, Jessie Bogner, 21, of 1318 Wilson Ave., looted the cash register of about $100; and David Clow, 20, of 1001 S. S. St., tore the phone from the wall.

The trio then fled to a car where the two juveniles were waiting, patrolmen said. Meanwhile, Liptak jumped out of a cafe window and went to his nearby home where he called the highway patrol.

Youngstown, Boardman and Warren police were notified to be on the lookout for the handits, and about a hour later the car was spotted traveling through Canfield. Had Stopped in Canfield

The handits had stopped at a restaurant in Canfield for about 25 minutes, and then resumed their flight, the patrol said.

Police officers stopped the car at Indianola and Sutherland Blvd. in Boardman where a search of the car was made. A .22 caliber pistol was found hidden on top of the car's heater, and the money was located under the back seat.

After the pistol and money were discovered, the group surrendered up to police without causing any difficulty.

The three men are in the Mahoning County jail awaiting preliminary hearings on armed robbery charges. The two youths will be turned over to the Mahoning County Juvenile Court.

LEETONIA — Ordinances necessary to set into operation the village's proposed flood control project were passed at Wednesday night's meeting of Village Council.

Approximate cost of dredging and seeding one and a half miles of Cherry Valley Run, and repairing bridges on Columbia, Hazel, Madison and Washington streets is set at $97,000. Federal aid will provide an estimated $81,000 for the project. The remainder of the expense will be shared by the village, with assistance from the county and state.

A formal assurance signed by the mayor and clerk will be sent to the secretary of the Army, stating the village will bear its share of the expense in the flood project.

Lisbon Man Parachutes at County Fair

A 4,000 foot ascension over the Columbiana county fair grounds was made Wednesday night by John Oliver, 71-year-old village jeweler, swinging from a hot air balloon, as a large crowd inside the fairground and along the road watched.

The balloon ascension, slated at 5 as a part of the entertainment at the fair, was delayed until 6:30 because of strong breezes.

Oliver, who made such ascensions years ago, finally got off the ground and went up almost a mile before leaping from the trapeze bar perch with a parachute. He landed about a mile northeast of the fairgrounds, and one witness said he somersaulted once, gathered up the parachute and immediately headed toward a road to return.

The balloon, made of a lightweight fabric, was inflated over open flames in a trench, the warm air gradually filling the balloon while about 40 men held and maneuvered it. Twice the wind almost carried the balloon too close to the flaming oil and wood close to the flaming oil and wood narrowly missing igniting it.

After Oliver jumped the balloon turned over in the air, losing much of its air, and fell about 500 yards from where he landed. Another ascension is planned tonight by Oliver.

Another Woman Hurt In Crash 3 Miles East of Village

A 48-year-old Columbiana practical nurse was killed and another woman was injured in a head-on collision Wednesday night at 7:38 on Rt. 14, two miles east of Columbiana.

Dead on arrival at Salem City Hospital was Mrs. Annabelle Fisher of 255 E. Park Ave.

Mrs. Fisher was riding in a car driven by Mrs. Pauline Mercer, 36, of 35½ S. Main St., Columbiana.

In Fair Condition
Mrs. Mercer is in fair condition at City Hospital where she is undergoing treatment for lacerations of the forehead and left eye, contusions of the head, and shock.

Highway patrolmen who investigated the accident, said Mrs. Mercer was traveling west on Rt. 14, and attempted to pass another vehicle, colliding head-on with an eastbound car driven by Ellen G. Myers, 40, of 3873 W. 37th St., Cleveland. The Cleveland woman escaped injury.

Mrs. Myers formerly lived in the Columbiana area, and spent the day visiting friends in Columbiana, before starting to drive back to Cleveland.

The fatality is the 13th traffic death of the year in Columbiana County, compared to 15 for the period last year. It is the second traffic death this month.

Still Under Investigation
The accident is still under investigation by the highway patrol, and county prosecuting attorney.

Mrs. Fisher was born March 7, 1910 at Middleburg, O., the daughter of George and Bertha Heath. On Jan. 23, 1930, she married Everett D. Fisher.

A resident of Columbiana for 13 years, she was employed as a practical nurse. She was a member of the Columbiana Methodist Church.

Besides her parents of Middleburg and her husband, she leaves two daughters, Mrs. R. D. Moore of Covina, Calif., and Mrs. William Grant of Alamogordo, N.M.; two sons, Aze William Fisher of Portsmouth, N.H. and Richard at home; two brothers, David Heath of Bellefontaine and Dwight Heath of Norwalk; and four grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 1:20 p. m. at the Seederly-Beilhart Funeral Home, with the Rev. A. R. Brown, Methodist minister, officiating. Burial will be in Columbiana Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday evening.

Ike Trying to Goad Labor Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor legislation showed no signs of life today despite President Eisenhower's attempt to goad Congress into passing such a bill before adjournment.

It was hard to find any senator or representative who believed a labor bill could be pushed through in these final days of the session. In a special statement Wednesday, Eisenhower expressed disappointment "that the Congress has thus far failed to enact legislation to curb the racketeering, corruption and abuses of trust and power" which he said the Senate Rackets Committee has found in the labor-management field.

"I still hope that before adjournment the Congress will pass a labor bill which will effectively protect the working men and women of our country," Eisenhower added.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell also made an appeal for action before Congress goes home, perhaps this weekend.

Former Polish Liner Captain
Owns Ice Cream Stand in U.S.

CLIFTON, N. J. (AP) — Jan. Cwiklinski has no regrets.

Ten years ago he was captain of the Polish transatlantic liner Batory.

Today he works 16 hours a day in a roadside ice cream stand.

"I need a piece of bread," he says, "so I sell ice cream to get it. In Poland, when there is a knock on the door, you don't know if it is the milkman with the milk or the security police come to take you to jail. Here I am a free man, I work hard, but I sleep."

Nine years ago, when the Batory was docked in New York, Gerhart Eisler, reportedly America's top Communist, came aboard as a sightseer and stowed away in the laundry.

Eisler was free on bail after his conviction on perjury charges in connection with a passport declaration.

When Eisler presented himself at sea, the captain knew there would be trouble. He radioed New York and Warsaw as well as the ship's destination, London, informing authorities Eisler was aboard. The United States wanted Eisler returned, Poland wanted him brought safely to Communist territory. Capt. Cwiklinski turned the matter over to the Polish consul at London.

The consul refused to surrender Eisler, but Scotland Yard men boarded the ship and carried him off.

After that the Batory was barred from ports in the United States.

Capt. Cwiklinski fled the ship in London in 1953. He worked for Radio Free Europe, and wrote a book, "The Captain Leaves His Ship."

He came to the United States in 1954. He saw a newspaper advertisement offering to sell ice cream stand franchises, and he bought one. He had money from the sale of his book and television rights to his story.

He says the work is harder than that of a ship captain, but it pays better too. As captain of the Batory, one of Poland's two transatlantic liners, he was paid only the equivalent of $65 a month.

The 57-year-old captain speaks English well. It is one of seven languages he knows.

The captain has a wife and two children in Poland. His daughter is 22, and attends a university. His son is 12. The Communists once took their house away but returned it.

He communicates with his family indirectly, and rarely, because he is an unpopular man in Poland. His wife is working, and he sends parcels—"bolts of cloth and things like that, things she can sell."

Birds Dying to Get in New Dayton Museum

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Birds are dying to get into Dayton's new natural history museum.

E. J. Koestner, director, said some two dozen robins, flickers, waxwings and catbirds have come to an untimely end against the museum's big picture window this summer.

"The window shows reflections of trees and to a bird it looks like the wide open spaces, I suppose," Koestner theorizes.

The window's victims will end up inside the museum after all. "Our bird collection is very small," said Koestner, "so we're freezing them and eventually they will be mounted and added to the display."

The River-Lake Highway

Salem, Leetonia, Columbiana, Lisbon and other communities in Columbiana County stand to benefit from the construction of the Lake Erie-Ohio River highway, the location of which was announced yesterday by State Highway Director Charles M. Noble.

In fact, the rapidly-growing north-eastern Ohio district will be placed in an even more strategic position for accelerated progress as the river-lake road provides a vital highway link with St. Lawrence Seaway traffic on Lake Erie with improved navigational facilities on the Ohio River.

As outlined by Mr. Noble in an address to the River-Lake Association, the Ashtabula to East Liverpool freeway will follow almost a north-south path, paralleling existing State Route 46, but south of Canfield it will leave Route 46 to cross the Mahoning-Columbiana County line just east of Washingtonville, thence continuing southward past Leetonia and Lisbon and on to East Liverpool.

A $100 million freeway so close to Salem and its neighboring communities improves this district's role in an expanding industrial and agricultural economy.

Completion of the entire road may be several years away, but Mr. Noble's assurance that work on the first section is soon to commence is heartening news to the foresighted and determined group of local and county leaders who have spent nearly two years promoting the project.

Without their vision and assistance, the River-Lake Road might never have come to this district.

Agriculture's 'State of Uncertainty'

Gov. O'Neill's crop survey committee, which he appointed at the beginning of August to report to him on damage from excessive rainfall during June and July, advises that Ohio as a whole is not an emergency area.

This does not deny that Ohio agriculturalists in some regions and in some crop specialties are not in a state of emergency. Nor does it deny that by the end of the 1958 growing season there might be a basis for seeking federal aid on the grounds of emergency. The committee's report is for the time being only it asserts what is generally known—that agriculture's chronic state of uncertainty has bordered on a state of emergency during this dully wet summer.

In other summers at the waning of August there has been more often than not a bordering on a state of emergency for the opposite reason, as water levels dropped and powder-dry fields could not be fitted for the sowing of next year's wheat crop.

The chronic drying up of cattle pasturage in August has given way to the lushest growth this year even seen in the weeks before Labor Day. Milk producers cannot count this bonanza of late-summer pasturage as a blessing, however, because the same rain that makes the pastures verdant soaks the hay crop in the meadows and threatens a winter shortage of cured hay and grass silage. It has ruined the prospects of bumper wheat and oat yields. It has flooded lowland corn fields, thwarted weed control and drowned out many root crops. It has blocked spraying programs for orchards.

Traditionally, the farmer is a philosopher; he has to be, to keep his sanity in a guessing game with the elements in which he can control none of the factors that can wipe him out. His nature has not changed this summer. He is being as philosophical as he knows how to be, which is roughly 100 times more philosophical than his city brother who is inclined to think of every fresh blow of adversity as the one that is going to break his back and his spirit.

The farmer, whose back always is bent and whose spirit is humble, is inclined to think of next year when this year turns out, as he half-suspected it might when he put in the seed and began to pray.

Two diplomatic visits could reveal more secrets about recent events than anything forthcoming from all commentators combined, if the reasons behind them were known.

One was the visit of President Nasser of Egypt to President Tito of Yugoslavia just before the revolution in Iraq. The other was the visit of Premier Khrushchev of the Soviet Union to Peiping, where something he was told by Mao Tse-tung, leader of the Chinese Communists, caused him to change his point of view about attending a meeting of the United Nations Security Council.

In the Communist spectrum, Tito and Mao are at opposite extremes, and Khrushchev has seemed to be in the middle. It is surmised that Nasser was warned by Tito against the danger of being trapped by Khrushchev. It is surmised with just as good justification that Khrushchev was warned by Mao against the danger of being trapped by the Security Council.

Communist China, with two thirds of a billion people, is not represented in either the Security Council or the General Assembly of the United Nations. But Mao has left no room for doubt that Communist China speaks with the roar of a dragon in the councils of the international conspiracy of Communists.

Whether Khrushchev went to Peiping voluntarily, or was summoned, he left the impression by being there at a critical moment that Mao was at least his partner and might be his superior in plotting the strategy and ordering the tactics of the war against the West.

Those several million "Frenchmen who can't be wrong" have been supplanted by more than half a billion Chinese. Their representatives have been kept out of the United Nations, but they loom larger than anybody else in the Communist conspiracy.

HOW DO YOU FIGURE a country is very smart in its business programs when it lets Labor Day fall on September 1, thereby blitting summer business completely, with a loss of millions to resorts, hotels, motels, marinas, fishing, boating, etc.?

By law Labor Day is set for first Monday in September but it's a cockeyed law harmful for the nation. By changing legislation and making Labor Day fall on a fixed date, say the 10th or even 15th of September, the enormous summer resort industry would be given a needed break.

No Clear Sailing

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — This country has responded warmly to President Eisenhower's proposals in the United Nations for Mideast peace. But getting action on them by other countries — in or out of the U.N. — is something else.

This suggestion captured much attention: that an effort be made to see whether the Arab countries would agree to setting up a development organization to help their industry, farming, water supply, health and education.

Eisenhower did not say this should be part of a U.N. program. He suggested the money could be put up by the United States, other countries which wanted to take part, and private capital. The development organization would be run by the Arabs.

It's easy to see trouble ahead on this one.

President Nasser of the United Arab Republic, who seems bent on bringing all his Arab neighbors under his thumb, can do it easier if they're wracked with discontent than if they see a bright future ahead.

He can stall on this one in the belief that time is on his side, and given time he can capture his neighbors. Then he might talk about a development organization, with him as boss.

It's doubtful the Soviet Union would want in on this. Soviet infiltration in the Middle East is easier if the individual countries try to improve their lot with Soviet help in manpower, materials and loans.

Further, Eisenhower limited his proposal to the Arab countries. This left Israel out, an omission which must have been deliberate. Eisenhower knows he'd almost certainly not get Arab approval for a development program including Israel.

Yet, somehow in any Mideast development plan Israel would have to be considered. For example: in any development of the Jordan River. Perhaps Eisenhower has something in mind for Israel by itself, if the Arabs buy his development idea.

Eisenhower also proposed steps against indirect aggression — specifically broadcasts beamed from one country into a neighbor's people against their government.

The President didn't mention Nasser on this one. No doubt he had Nasser in mind. This idea almost certainly will run into opposition not only from Egypt but from the Soviet Union, too.

In any discussion of a curb on broadcasts into another country — whether or not their purpose is subversion — the Soviets would probably insist that American broadcasts behind the Iron Curtain be stopped or monitored.

Another Eisenhower suggestion: that the U.N. take "action looking towards the creation of a standby U.N. police" to keep peace in the Middle East. Nasser, highly successful so far with his pressure tactics, will hardly buy this one.

And even Jordan's King Hussein — so close to being thrown out — is cool to any idea of a U.N. police force on any Arab borders with Israel.

This Eisenhower proposal seems destined to get the coldest shoulder from both Nasser and the Soviet Union: that the "nations involved in the 1948 hostilities (the Arab-Israel war) might approve creation of a U.N. study to see what could be done about controlling the shipment of heavy armaments into the area."

He didn't say anything about extending arms shipment control to the Baghdad Pact countries — Turkey, Iran, Pakistan — which this country in effect joined as a full partner a couple of weeks ago for defense against the Soviet Union.

Nasser has been bitter against this military alliance right on the Arab doorstep in the Mideast. And the Soviet Union has been bitter about it because it stretches along her southern frontier.

Both the Soviet Union and Nasser almost certainly would fight any such Eisenhower proposal as this arms control plan unless it included at least Iran and Pakistan. Turkey could get arms anyway from this country because it's also a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

All in all — Eisenhower's proposals do not face clear sailing.

Right of Free Speech

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Citizens Have Right to Preach 'Resistance'

Abraham Lincoln and Thomas Jefferson said the exact opposite of what the six judges of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis declared this week in implying that "popular opposition" to Supreme Court rulings could be made the basis for court injunctions. In effect, this would end free speech and free assembly once a federal court order was put into effect on an issue in public controversy.

Abraham Lincoln said 100 years ago with reference to the Dred Scott Decision handed down by the Supreme Court of the United States: "If this important decision... had been before the court more than once, and had there been affirmed and reaffirmed through a course of years, it then might be, perhaps would be, factious, nay, even revolutionary, not to acquiesce in it as a precedent."

"But when, as is true, we find it wanting in all these claims to the public confidence, it is not resistance, it is not factious, it is not even disrespectful, to treat it as not having yet quite established a settled doctrine for the country."

In his first inaugural address, President Lincoln said: "The candid citizen must confess that if the policy of the government, upon vital questions affecting the whole people, is to be irrevocably fixed by decisions of the Supreme Court, the instant they are made, in ordinary litigation between parties in personal actions, the people will have ceased to be their own rulers, having to that extent practically resigned their government into the hands of that eminent tribunal."

THOMAS JEFFERSON wrote in 1820 that "to consider the judges as the ultimate arbiters of all constitutional questions is a very dangerous doctrine indeed, and one which would place us under the despotism of an oligarchy."

These quotations become more than ever pertinent now because the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis this week held that "popular opposition" in the community was primarily responsible for the belligerent attitude of the students at Central High School in Little Rock who protested, sometimes with acts of violence inside the school, against "integration" in the classrooms.

The Circuit Court judges went further when they criticized the Little Rock School Board for not seeking injunctive relief "against those who opposed by unlawful acts the lawful integration plan."

The Circuit Court cited with disapproval the passage of new laws by the State Legislature subsequent to the Supreme Court decision of 1954—which were designed to circumvent that ruling through, for instance, a pupil assignment plan.

The inference is clear that public opposition to the reversal in 1954 of a Supreme Court ruling—which had been "affirmed and reaffirmed" for 58 years—comes under the reading now of "unlawful acts."

THIS VERY POINT was dealt with by Judge Lemley of the U.S. District Court, who earlier this summer ordered the Postponement of "integration" in the Little Rock schools for two and a half years. He said in his formal opinion: "Relative to interference from outside the school, the plaintiffs urge that the (school) board should have either instituted criminal prosecutions against the persons responsible, or that it should have applied for injunctive relief, as was done in the Hoxie, Ark., and Clinton, Tenn., cases."

"In answer to that argument Mr. Blossom (school superintendent) testified, and he was corroborated by Mr. Upton (head of school board), that the board had determined as a matter of judgment not to resort to criminal prosecutions or to seek injunctive relief; that it was not the function of the board of prosecute people or to seek injunctions but to run a school system, and that it had already had all of the litigation that it wanted and was not anxious for any more."

"We think that the board acted within its competency in coming to that conclusion, and we do not think that its failure to commence criminal actions or to seek injunctive relief should militate against its present petition."

"In the first place, the board is not charged with the duty of commencing criminal prosecutions or of enforcing the criminal laws of the state."

"SECONDLY, by reason of the nature, source and extent of the opposition to integration in Little Rock, actions by the board looking toward criminal prosecutions or injunctions might have aggravated rather than eased the situation."

"Moreover, the board might have had a good deal of difficulty in identifying the persons causing the trouble or in establishing that their conduct constituted crimes or was of such quality as would justify the granting of injunctive relief."

But if most of the people in Arkansas who are against "integration" were Communists, they could be certain of escape from prosecution. For the Supreme Court of the United States, in the famous Watkins case, last year laid down the rule that it's all right in public meetings openly to preach extreme doctrines—even the forcible overthrow of the government of the United States—and that there should be no conviction unless it can be conclusively proved that the speech directly incited or instigated an unlawful act.

The Supreme Court based its ruling on the constitutional guarantees of free speech and freedom of assembly.

Consequently, the people of Arkansas have the same right to preach "resistance"—by lawful means such as public meetings—against the "desegregation" decisions of the Supreme Court, and it will have to be proved in each incident that speech in itself or acts of the State Legislature in passing new laws to obstruct "integration" constitute in themselves a direct incitement to "unlawful acts."

Operation Moon Rush

By HARRY KURSH

WASHINGTON

Now that the astronauts are getting closer to landing a rocket on the moon — the Air Force will fire one right at this week — the troubles of the U.S. Bureau of Land Management are apt to multiply.

As a matter of fact, the bureau's troubles already have begun. Hardly a day passes without scores of letters, many requesting a homestead on the moon, arriving from all over the country.

Here are some excerpts from the letters:

"Gentlemen: I would greatly appreciate details on the cost and procedure of staking out a claim on the moon..."

"Dear Sir: I wish to film claim to those sections of the moon known as the Sea of Clouds, Sea of Serenity and Gul of Dew."

"Gentlemen: Please send me a deed to five acres of land on the moon for my four friends and me."

"Sir: Is it still possible to file homestead claims on the moon?"

Many citizens, keep two steps ahead of the U.S. space program, already are claiming land on other planets.

Typical is this letter received by the bureau:

"Dear Sir: I wish to register a claim on the planet Mars. I base this claim on the fact that I have studied this planet very thoroughly (sic) with telescope and in many books."

More than one American foresees good business opportunities in outer space. One wrote to say that he would "be interested in obtaining the streetcar franchise on the moon;" another requested all available information about land "on any of the planets or the moon... to open some business."

But the Bureau of Land Management, which is responsible for granting leases and deeds for 380 million acres of the public domain in the U.S., flatly refuses to accept the lunar burden, its replies to prospective homesteaders on the moon, therefore, are discouraging.

On July 1 the bureau began on this standard reply: "Dear Sir: Thank you for your letter in which you asked about land on the moon or planets."

"It is not now, nor has it ever been, possible for anyone to make application for or obtain the rights to land on the moon or planets through the United States government."

"The United States has as yet made no claim to any territory beyond the earth. To our knowledge, there are no specific provisions of national or international law covering outer space."

"Until there is some legal basis for regarding such lands as public lands of the United States, there is no method by which they may be officially claimed or obtained by anyone."

Fall Hats Will Feature Fur and Feathers

THE LITTLE FOXES.—They're back with a bang in the fall fashion picture. IRENE designs this hat and three-yard boa in cross fox.

HIGH DOME.—She may not be an intellectual but she's right in style in John Fredericks' yellow soleil dome cloche over mesh veil.

MONKEY BUSINESS.—This is the new look in fall hats. Dache designs a deep bucket cloche in brown velours covered in monkey fur.

EMPRE BONNET.—This is in the romantic mood of the season—a Hattie Carnegie design in sapphire blue angora felt with a froth of veil.

BUBBLE CLOCHE.—This startling confection is made of pink swan feathers and peacock 'eyes' with a giddy look, designed by Alice.

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Furs, feathers and frou-frou will go to the head this fall, as hats fall in step with the Empire fashion mood.

Husbands may as well be warned that every woman is going to want a fur hat this fall, and probably a fur boa to match. For these are the prescribed accessories to wear with the simple, straight-line wool dresses and understated suits of the season.

There are high fur shakos and deep fur clocches, fur berets and fur bonnets ranging from mink in all its mutations through beaver, seal and bunny to dramatic, log-haired fox. The latter hits an all-time high in dramatic effect when teamed with a matching boa, three yards long.

When it isn't fur it's feathers.

There are hats covered entirely in curled ostrich, others made of such things as swan feathers and peacock 'eyes.' The latter are the iridescent eye-tips of peacock feathers, not real seeing eyes, you'll be glad to know.

The furs and feathers are likely to be used in high toques or deep clocches, although there are many variations. Sally Victor makes a high, back-slanting bonnet of fox, and Lilly Dache covers a deep brown velours cloche with black monkey fur.

The Empire bonnet also is much in evidence, in draped and crushed velvet or rich metallic brocade. Some of the hats have a poke bonnet look. Others suggest the boudoir caps of another generation.

New hats must have either height or depth—there are no insignificant beanies in the fashionable lineup. When you wear a hat this fall, everybody will know it, and often it will be the most important part of your costume.

FBI Seeks Trio of Top Holdup Artists

Bank Robberies At New High

Clark Sam Smith

Joseph Lloyd Thomas

Jack Michael Franklin

By JERRY BENNETT
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA — Not since the days of John Dillinger, Baby Face Nelson and Pretty Boy Floyd have bank bandits played such prominent roles in the activities of the nation's underworld.

Today, however, law enforcement officials think of such names as Clark Sam Smith, Joseph Lloyd Thomas and Jack Michael Franklin when they study reports that reveal the 1953 fiscal year produced a record 631 crimes against banks.

This FBI figure tops the old 1932 record for bank robberies, burglaries and larcenies by 25.

The FBI started hunting for the Nebraska-born Smith early this year when he was named as one of three bandits who robbed the Silver Leaf Savings and Loan Association in Chicago. On February 27, two hoodlums entered the loan office, drew guns and announced a hold-up.

AFTER LOOTING the cash drawer, safe and a secret money compartment, the bandits herded the customers and office personnel into a closet at the rear of the room. Then they ran outside to where the third robber was waiting in the get-away car. Although his accomplices were soon apprehended, Smith is still at large.

The FBI reports that the fugitive is 37 years old, stands 5 feet 8 inches and weighs about 180 pounds. Both his eyes and hair are brown. Smith has two small scars on his right cheek and a V-shaped scar on the forefinger of his left hand. The hand may be partially paralyzed. He has worked as a bartender, butcher, laborer, mechanic and railroad switchman.

Thomas is charged with participating in this year's stick-up of the Commercial National Bank in Shreveport, La. Witnesses report that two men suddenly drew guns as they approached the tellers and ordered them to back away from their windows.

When a teller didn't move fast enough, one of the bandits fired a shot into the floor. The bullet ricocheted and struck the finger of another employee.

THEN THE MEN scooped all bills from the money carts into a paper bag and headed for the front door. They made their escape in a car parked outside. I was later found abandoned only 10 blocks from the bank.

Before being added to the FBI's fugitive bank robber list, Thomas was convicted for vehicle theft, robbery and possession of a still. The 47-year-old Indiana gunman is 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighs 170 pounds and has a dark complexion. He has blue eyes and graying dark brown hair.

Scars are visible on Thomas' hands and the right side of his mouth. He has been known to wear silver rimmed glasses. He has worked as a carpenter, bricklayer, truck driver and salesman. The FBI warns that Thomas is probably armed and is considered dangerous.

FRANKLIN has managed to escape an intense police and FBI search for almost four years. In 1953, the muscular fugitive stuck a gun under the nose of a Butte, Mont., teller and fled with $2,858. The 43-year-old bandit is believed to carry a .22 caliber pistol and is reported to be dangerous.

Franklin has brown eyes and hair, weighs between 160 and 175 pounds and is about 5 feet 8 inches tall. He has a four-inch scar on his left arm and a smaller scar on the back of his left hand. Franklin has worked as a farm hand, iron and steel worker and merchant seaman.

Law enforcement officials throughout the country believe the increase in bank robberies is due partly to unemployment and financial hardships spawned by the recession.

They also say that more bank branch offices are in operation today, and that sometimes these smaller, suburban banks are tempting prey.

Sahara Oilmen

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

HASSI MESSAOU, Algeria — Some 3,000 men live and work in the heart of the Sahara and discomforts of desert life.

Their major problem is lack of women.

The men are employees of French oil companies building what they hope is a future French oil empire amid sun-baked sand dunes.

COMMITTEE MEETS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The legislative committee of the Ohio Mental Health Assn. meets here today with Dr. Robert A. Haines, state director of mental hygiene and correction. The association's recommendations for care of mentally ill and retarded patients will be submitted to the Legislature.

POPULAR GARBAGE MAN

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Nearly every passing motorist waved at Robert F. McKenzie, driving a truck load of trash. He discovered at his next stop that the trash was on fire. "I knew I didn't know all those people," said McKenzie.

NO SPECIAL SESSION—Gov. Orval Faubus is pictured as he tells newsmen in Little Rock that he will not call a special session of the Arkansas legislature to deal with the latest Little Rock integration crisis.

They live in air-conditioned huts with running water, showers, and plugs for electric razors. They are served five-course meals in air-conditioned dining rooms. Their bars offer a variety of French and foreign drinks—at a fraction of the normal price.

Every day planes land on airstrips in the middle of the desert with mail and newspapers.

The wages of the men of Hassi Messaoud oil site are on the average twice as high as those of comparable workers in France. Their lodging costs nothing and their food costs about $15 a month.

One of the oil companies estimated that in addition to salary and initial investment in living quarters, each man costs it $14 a day.

The worker also receives a special bonus. In summer, when the outside temperature reaches 125 degrees Fahrenheit, the bonuses are the highest.

Every three weeks, the men of the Hassi Messaoud site are transported by plane — free — for a week's rest in Algiers, 500 miles away. Those who want to go to France must pay their own way. Ninety per cent of the workers are French citizens — of whom two-thirds are Moslems. About 7 per cent are ex-Foreign Legion members and about 3 per cent are skilled foreign technicians.

The site is linked with the oasis of Ouargla—some 60 miles north—by a recently built concrete road. Heavy trucks roll over the road while camels plod through the sands nearby.

Most of the old-timers are proud of making it into an oil town. None of the oil companies, however, has managed to solve the most acute problem — lack of women. The site is still not ready to install family dwellings, and anyway the added cost frightens the firms.

Said an ex-Foreign Legionnaire: "It is the third week here that always seems the longest. And then your week in Algiers seems like a day and you're back here for another three weeks, thinking of your next leave. That's our life."

FITCH ON COMMITTEE

Atty. Alfred L. Fitch of Salem has been selected to serve as a member of the American Citizenship Committee of the Ohio State Bar Association. The appointment was made by President William R. Van Aken of Cleveland.

OUTWARD TO THE STARS (4)—Rocket Pioneers

(1) The story of space now turns to rockets. Known to the Chinese possibly as early as the 7th century, by the 13th they were employing them as weapons. In Europe, however, rockets were merely used as fireworks until the late 18th century. Then the Englishman William Congreve developed an artillery rocket. During the Napoleonic Wars military rockets reached a high point, then fell into disuse. The "rockets" red glare" seen by Francis Scott Key during the bombardment of Ft. McHenry in 1814 were Congreve rockets.

(2) Space travel was an old dream, and the wisest men knew that rockets offered the only practical form of propulsion. But not until the 1890s was any serious mathematical work done, when the Russian Konstantin Tsiolkovsky first advocated liquid-fueled rockets. He also studied the problems of keeping men alive in space.

(3) In America, Prof. Robert H. Goddard built rockets to probe the upper atmosphere. He was the first to test rocket theories in the workshop.

(4) Like Tsiolkovsky, Goddard arrived at the conclusion that—at that time—liquid rockets were the best source of power. In 1926 he launched the world's first liquid-fueled rocket. Its two-foot-long motor burned for two and a half seconds. The rocket covered a distance of 184 feet at about 60 miles an hour. It has been likened to the Wright brothers' first airplane flight.

In Germany about the same time, the Hungarian-born Hermann Oberth had also hit upon some of the same rocket ideas. His writings sparked the formation of amateur rocket clubs throughout Europe. From one of them, the German Society for Space Travel, was to come the builder of the famous V-2.

Safety Committee To Study Fourth Policeman Proposal

COLUMBIANA — A Chamber of Commerce recommendation that the village hire a fourth full-time policeman was turned over to the safety committee for study and recommendation following its introduction at Tuesday night's village council session.

Blaine Thompson, president of the chamber, said the recommendation developed from a recent chamber meeting called to discuss an entirely different problem. He remarked on the "intense interest" the fourth policeman proposal had aroused in town and asked that the organization be informed of any council action in the matter.

43 years and converted it in January, 1957, to a school for practical nursing. The reasons were: high costs, the continuing additions to the curriculum and the trend in professional nursing toward a collegiate program. At that time, the cost to patients, who actually subsidized the program, was $1200 per year per student, Mr. Metzger added.

The new school, a one-year program, soon will be operated on a break-even basis through student tuition, student service and private contributions. This school changeover assisted in lowering patient costs, he explained.

"There are several more planned improvements and economies being recommended by Mr. Mosher and, with these in mind we may be able to make further reductions in 1959 or at least hold the line," Mr. Metzger concluded.

Hospital costs have risen 8 1/2 per cent for each of the last 15 years, according to the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, and as estimated by the American Hospital Association will continue to rise 5-6 per cent each year for a number of years.

extent undercut a new propaganda campaign which opponents of King Hussein outside Jordan had been trying to launch.

Adherents of President Nasser of the United Arab Republic had spread the word through the Arab world several days ago that all five defendants had been sentenced to hang. Nasser's Cairo radio called the black-haired, sullenly beautiful Miss Salti a Moslem Joan of Arc.

The trial was the second of persons charged with smuggling arms or explosives from Syria since the current crisis began. Thirteen persons were sentenced to death on Aug. 13.

The Soviet news agency Tass today joined in the cry, reprinting Cairo press reports that Miss Salti had been given an "unlawful death sentence" because she resented "the occupation of her homeland by British troops."

Another bomb went off in Beirut, Lebanon, today, this one in a bus that had just reached the Lebanese capital from the southern port of Sidon. Five passengers were slightly injured.

Lebanese opposition leader Saeb Salam praised the four-point plan worked out by Arab delegates to the United Nations to bring peace to the Middle East and hasten troop withdrawals.

Some observers in Lebanon said the compromise plan indicated Lebanon's relations with Nasser would smooth out after Gen. Fuad Chehab succeeds Camille Chamoun as president Sept. 24. The plan was believed in Beirut to be largely the result of contacts between Nasser and opposition leaders likely to have more influence when Chamoun steps down.

61 Candidates Report For Initial Football Practice

9 Lettermen Return; Many Positions Open

By GORDON ARNDT

Old Mr. Football stepped into the Salem sports scene Wednesday morning at Centennial Park when 61 candidates reported for the first high school gridiron practice of the season.

Included among the list of aspirants were nine lettermen from the 1937 squad which compiled a 9-1 record and a 10th place finish in the Associated Press poll of the state's scholastic grid powers.

They were: Ralph Ehrhart, Benny Jones, Kent Malloy, Clyde Marks, Ken Garloch, Joe Julian, George Daily and Bill Hone.

Lou Slaby was absent from the first drill having been called out of town. He'll report later in the week.

Ehrhart was the regular left halfback last year. Jones and Malloy formed two-thirds of the Quakers' extra-point kicking team in 1937 that included center Jerry Stumpo, who has since graduated.

Marks is back for another crack at the center spot while Garloch will be out to retain his job at guard. Julian and Daily will seek their regular positions at the tackles while Hone is trying for a spot at right end.

Slaby will undoubtedly get the first call at the starting fullback slot.

THREE BOYS were not around who played in 1937, Ken McArthur and Bob Snyder passed up the grid sport to devote their time to jobs while Steve Taryak's family moved to Charlestown, W. Va. Head Coach Earle Bruce, back for his third year at the helm of the Red and Black, says that at the present time the squad is weak offensively at quarterback, the ends and at right guard.

He points out that two big holes to be plugged on defense is at the linebacker's positions and at the tackles.

"We are weak at these spots because of the lack of experience," he added.

Jones, Malloy and Vince Hornung will be trying for the starting quarterback post which Bruce says is wide open.

Jones played defensive halfback last year while being successful on 34 of 44 conversion tries. Malloy was his accomplice as he was the griddy who held the ball when snapped from Stumpo.

Hornung played with the junior varsity while still seeing some action in varsity combat.

Another wide open race is developing at the ends.

WITHOUT GRADUATES Jim Horn and Bill Holzwarth, there are five juniors and seniors battling for the two vacancies.

They are Charlie Horn, Hone, Don Greenmeyer, Dave Metcalf and Tony Petrucci.

Julian and Daily apparently have the tackle spots sewed up although Ned Chappell and Charlie Metcalf may have other ideas as the rehearsals continue toward the Sept. 12 inaugural at home with Cleveland John Marshall.

Garloch is the only monogram winner at guard. His sidekick in the starting lineup will come from a list which includes Buddy Rottenborn, Ray Esterly and Bob Lampert.

Gordie Scullion and Tom Dahms will give Marks a go for it at the center position.

The most wide open backfield slot is at right half where at the present Fred Phillips and Pat Blount are competing against each other.

Ehrhart will start at left half and may expect relief from Frank Copacia and Harold Kuhns.

Slaby is Bruce's first line fullback while right behind are Powell Schmauch and Jim Pleggie.

Bruce said that Ehrhart would get the initial try at the punting chores. Phillips will be around too as will Daily.

RAVENSA appears as Salem's toughest opponent this season. They were the only team to beat Salem (13-7) last year.

"They have the whole squad back and lost only two tackles," Bruce replied when asked to comment on the relative strength of the Ravens as one of the Quakers' foes.

Going down the line we find that the mentor felt more trouble would come from Brookfield and then Wooster and Youngstown East as well as perennial pesky East Liverpool.

Six men will be on hand this fall to coach the local footballers. Besides Bruce, there is Blaine Morton, Bob Reiber and John Baker.

Karl Zellers and Vince Crawford round out the staff. Reiber and Baker are newcomers from this campaign. The former is from Cumberland, Md. and is a graduate of Fairmont State Teachers College in West Virginia. Baker, a local product, just graduated from Miami, O.

Baker will tutor the defensive ends and offensive tackles while Reiber will have charge of instructions for the offensive end and defensive tackle.

Morton, in his second year in Salem, has charge of the backfield along with Crawford. Zellers will coach the guards and centers.

PRACTICES will be held twice a day until Labor Day. The quad rehearses at Centennial Park from 9 to 11 a.m. and at Reilly Stadium from 6 to 8 p.m.

Bruce said the session would cover offensive patterns this week while next week's drills would move into defensive situations.

"During the first week we attempt to teach each individual what his particular responsibilities are," Bruce said.

"This week we'll drill on individual and group offense and individual defense. Next week we'll switch to team offense and individual and team defense."

The initial punting drills are expected to start Monday also.

On Sept. 5, just one week before the first game, the Quakers will play Lisbon in the annual pre-season "look-see" at East Liverpool. The eleven will lock horns for two eight-minute periods.

Red Hot Chisox Open 3-Game Series With League Leaders

By The Associated Press

The second-place Chicago White Sox have a seven-game winning streak, their longest in two years. The first-place New York Yankees have a winning streak of one, their longest in a week.

That's the way things stand as the White Sox roll into Yankee Stadium tonight for the opener in a three-game set.

The White Sox are on a drive to nail second place (although Manager Al Lopez insists they're shooting for the flag) and at the moment they're doing right well, winning 15 of their last 18 games in a rush from fourth place. They're now 10 1/2 games behind New York.

They built a four-game lead over third-place Boston by beating the Red Sox 10-8 Wednesday after blowing a six-run lead. The Yankees, who had lost four in a row, ended that with a 7-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Detroit clung to fourth by beating Washington 7-1 while Baltimore regained fifth with a 4-0 decision over Kansas City. In the National League, fourth-place Los Angeles beat Milwaukee 2-1, trimming the Braves' lead to 5 1/2 games. Second-place San Francisco defeated Cincinnati 4-3. Pittsburgh split a double more regained fifth with a 4-3 defeat the Cubs won a rain-shortened, five-inning decision 5-1. Philadelphia rapped St. Louis 12-2.

Jim Landis drove in four runs for the White Sox, doubling home a pair for a 7-1 lead and then nailing it with a two-run homer, his 15th, in the seventh inning. Turk Lown won his third in relief.

Art Ditmar (9-4) had a four-hit shutout for six innings and wound up with an eight-hitter for the first complete game by a Yankee pitcher in 13 games. Yogi Berra belted his 18th and 19th home runs for a 3-0 lead against loser Gary Bell (7-8).

Petrucchi's Blast KC 21-11 In 'G' Contes.

Undeclared Petrucchi pounded out 17 hits as they romped over the KC club 21-11 in a Class G game Wednesday night. They led 13-2 after two innings.

George Begalla was the winner although Dave Cozad appeared in relief.

Cozad hit two home runs driving in six tallies. Aaron Arter and Dennis Beery each had a triple and double for Petrucchi while Begalla had two triples and Wayne "Bink" Washington one three-base blow.

Jim Taus had two singles and a triple for KC. KC's only homer was by Dennis Snyder.

Court Fight Is Seen For 'Right to Work'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A court fight may be shaping up here over the use of three words on the Nov. 4 election ballot.

The words are "right to work" and appear in a proposed constitutional amendment to ban the union shop in Ohio.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown approved ballot forms Wednesday. The forms must be printed by county election boards by Sept. 5 for Ohio members of the armed forces and for civilians outside the United States.

United Organized Labor of Ohio, an organization formed by unions to oppose the anti-union shop proposal, objects to the words "right to work" on grounds they are misleading. The group has threatened court action to block their use.

A spokesman for the labor organization said a decision on any court action would come soon.

The proposed amendment reads in part: "No employer or labor organization shall deny or abridge the right to work by requiring membership in or non-membership in, or payment or non-payment of money to, a labor organization as a condition of employment or continued employment in this state."

United Organized Labor announced, meanwhile, that it will ask Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt to take part in the campaign against the proposal. The announcement was made after it was reported in Washington that the widow of the late president would come to Ohio if she were invited.

Mrs. Roosevelt and former Sen. Herbert Lehman, New York Democrat, are co-chairmen of the National Council of Industrial Peace, a new organization fighting union shop ban proposals.

Idaho Candidate Favors Legalized Gambling

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—A lumberman who favors revival of legalized gambling in Idaho emerged Wednesday as the Democratic candidate for governor, winner in one of the closest primary contests in state history.

State Sen. A. M. Derr of Clark Fork captured the Democratic nomination by 133 votes from State Sen. H. Max Hanson of Fairfield, who opposed his gambling platform.

The Republican candidate is Gov. Robert E. Smylie, who was unopposed for renomination.

Shooting of Leesville Girl Ruled Accidental

CARROLLTON, Ohio (AP) — Orlo J. Becley, 17, is free to proceed with his senior year at Conotton Valley High School next month. Until Wednesday he was held in jail, charged with murder in a fatal shooting that already had been ruled accidental by the coroner.

He was released because Juvenile Judge William T. Allmon dismissed charges filed by Mrs. Thelma Lloyd of Leesville. She signed an affidavit last week declaring the boy shot her daughter last July 13 "with premeditated malice."

However, Coroner Clarence J. Deckman had ruled 14-year-old Thelma Sue Lloyd's death was accidental. Becley's rifle was discharged as he and two companions were target shooting near the Lloyd home.

Judge Allmon, after hearing several witnesses in a closed hearing, said there was not sufficient evidence to warrant consideration by a court or jury.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Rome enemy aircraft pilots would be dazzled by the reflections. Trying to bomb the site would be like flying over a huge mirror which gnoots the sun's rays right back into the pilots' eyes. All that was needed, was secrecy so no one would know that the ramp was aimed at the submarine pens on the coast of Albania. I drove through the sector the other night with a "fellow" who knows about these things. The point was made that the Communists knew all about the site not long after it was prepared and soon were broadcasting attacks on the government for building it.

There is little, indeed, that can be constructed in Italy which the Communist labor apparatus, known as the General Confederation of Italian Labor, doesn't know within a matter of hours.

This powerful federation of some three million members is part of the global Soviet machine. It is hard for the American mind to grasp the fact but through this labor federation, the Soviets reach right into our own defense machinery wherever our forces are tied in with the Italian army installations and civilian equipment.

And don't forget, Italy has become the training grounds for our "atomic" troops.

There, is, for example, the slight matter of Italian global communications. This is handled by a company called "Italcable."

Over its wires, receivers and transmitters flow virtually all of Italy's overseas communications. And guess who operates those transmitter and receiver

That's right. They're handled by some of the world's most disciplined transmitters and receivers.

The Communist party has so skillfully infiltrated the company's work force that in a recent shop steward election the Reds won by a heavy majority. Yet this election was held after Soviet tanks shot down women and children on the streets of Budapest.

THEN THERE IS the matter of keeping some nuclear secrets from the Russians. But in this country of 11 million Communist-bloc votes, you can't keep any such secrets. A superb nuclear power plant of the latest design is being planned by the Edisonvolta Co.

Some day the company will be the huge "console" which will control the flow of such nuclear power to all Italy. Its workers will direct that flow.

Who represents those workers today? That's right. The Communists officially voted in by the employees.

Should war come or some crisis requiring swift air transport the Italian government would rapidly convert its state owned civilian air line—Alitalia into a quasi-military air wing.

Who represents the entire Alitalia force? Again, the Communists. They were officially voted in by the air line employees—after Soviet tanks ground women and kids into dust on Hungary's streets.

IF WAR COMES, or if the skilled Italian auto plants are converted to the production of tanks and aircraft in the northern industrial belt the Soviet cadres will know from minute to minute what is being produced.

In Turin—which is Italy's Detroit in Milan, and in Bologna, the Communists control 25 per cent of the skilled workers.

I've gone over the records and have been told where the pro-Soviet units are placed. They could cripple vital Italian industry whenever they are signaled into action. Yet all these workers I've just listed are Italy's highest paid craftsmen. There is as much work as a man wants.

There is no recession—and many of those northern workers could send aid packages to relatives in the U.S.

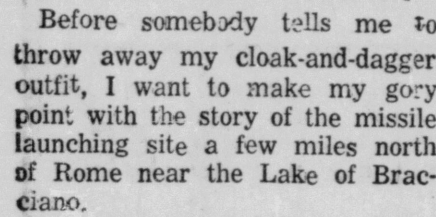

These men are Communists not because their bellies are empty but because their heads are filled with Soviet propaganda.

Alongside the Russians' organization, we have not yet lost our amateur standing. Because of this we may yet lose a world.

Before somebody tells me to throw away my cloak-and-dagger outfit, I want to make my gory point with the story of the missile launching site a few miles north of Rome near the Lake of Bracciano.

The Italian Army set the launching ramp there because it seemed like a perfect spot. There are hills and woodlands for camouflage, and Lake Bracciano glistens in the lovely Roman sun so that incoming

Wandering Jet Stream Is One Cause of Freak Weather

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Resort owners east of the Rockies who have been tearing their hair over this summer's terrible weather can take some consolation from the plight of the fuel oil salesmen in the Arctic.

Northern Canada and the whole Arctic have been having just as freakishly warm weather recently as the eastern three-quarters of the U.S. has had strange weather in the way of excess rain, cold, storms and floods.

The U.S. Weather Bureau says there is probably some connection between these unusual conditions. But they won't say just what it is, because they modestly admit, they don't know.

To make this summer's strange weather picture even more cloudy a new upper atmosphere phenomenon near the North Pole has just been discovered. Scientists who have been firing high-altitude rockets up there as part of the International Geophysical Year program have discovered hitherto unknown masses of warm air at altitudes above 100 miles.

THIS, TOO, IS undoubtedly a piece in the big bad weather puzzle. Weather Bureau experts admit. But the fact that they don't know yet whether the IGY discovery is normal or peculiar to this year complicates efforts to fit it into the overall bad weather confusion.

Weather Bureau experts, however, are positive about one set of facts. A spokesman explains:

"For the past several months over the general area of the U.S. east of the Rocky Mountains precipitation has been considerably above normal, with some areas such as Washington, D.C., getting two to three times more rain than average in July. This has included more than average cloudiness, temperatures lower than average, and storms and floods in Kansas, Nebraska, Illinois and West Virginia."

A few, isolated areas in the East and Midwest have had near normal weather with about average rainfall. But these spots are freaks of chance, too, it is claimed.

Weather Bureau experts are not entirely in the clouds about one cause of the country's summer weather snafu. They know that the transcontinental jet stream has been splitting and meandering down as far south as over Illinois and Kentucky instead of sticking to its normal path just over the Canadian border.

THE JET STREAM is a river of cold air which races across the North American continent from west to east at an altitude of between 20 and 40 thousand feet. It originates somewhere near Japan and blows across half of the world at speeds of up to 300 miles an hour.

But beyond establishing these facts about the jet stream, information about it becomes purely speculative. Movements of Arctic air, temperatures of the oceans and possible sun spots may influence the jet stream's origin and starts ducking below the Great Lakes area weather trouble really begins. In the summer it collides with the prevailing warm, moist air which normally blows from south to the north from the Gulf of Mexico and Caribbean.

WEATHER BUREAU experts say the southerly wanderings of the so-called jet stream have been largely responsible for the freak summer weather over two-thirds of the U.S. When the cold winds of the jet stream collide with the warm winds off the Gulf of Mexico, violent storms and rain are produced.

THUS WHEN THE icy jet stream smacks into the gentle, moist masses of air lazily rolling up from the south, rain clouds and storms result. The fact that the meanderings of the jet stream have been far ranging and the stream has been frequently split, has caused the widespread bad weather over the U.S. this year.

Weather Bureau experts are reluctant to admit it because it is so speculative, but there is a possible silver lining to this whole dark weather cloud. If the jet stream continues to snake across the U.S. south of its normal Canadian-border route the chances of a bad hurricane season over the eastern part of the U.S. this fall are lessened.

When the jet stream moves abnormally north the possibility of tropical hurricanes hitting the U.S. increases. This is what happened during 1954-55 when the East Coast was struck by numerous devastating hurricanes. When the jet stream is south of normal it tends to blow the hurricanes away from the U.S. over the Atlantic.

Method: Cut off ends from zucchini; scrub in cold water with stiff vegetable brush. With swivel blade vegetable peeler, pare off enough of outer covering so you have lengthwise striped effect; slice into thin rounds. Melt butter in 9 or 10-inch skillet over low heat; add zucchini and mix.

Savory Cucumbers

Ingredients: 1 cucumber, (about 8 inches long), 1½ tablespoons olive oil, 2 tablespoons garlic wine vinegar, 2 teaspoons sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 1½ teaspoons minced chives, parsley or salad greens for garnish.

Method: Pare cucumber; draw the sharp tines of a fork lengthwise down cucumber for fluted effect; slice thin. With a fork beat oil, vinegar, sugar and salt together in a shallow wide container; add cucumber (there should be about 1½ cups) and mix well.

Cover and refrigerate for a few hours; turn cucumbers in marinade a few times. At serving time sprinkle cucumbers with chives, garnish with greens.

Jon's Rigatoni

Try Orange Funny Cake

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

As Labor Day approaches, it's time to think of cooler weather eating. Orange Funny Cake, a cross between a cake and a pie, is a traditional Pennsylvania Dutch recipe with a modern topping.

Orange Funny Cake
(Makes 6-8 servings)

One-half cup orange marmalade, 1/2 cup water, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 1/4 cups sifted cake flour, 1/4 teaspoon baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup butter, 3/4 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 cup reliquified instant nonfat dry milk crystals (according to the package directions), 1 10-inch unbaked pastry shell, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, 2 cups whipped instant nonfat dry milk crystals.

Combine marmalade and water. Cook over low heat until marmalade is melted. Add 2 tablespoons butter, mix well. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Cream 1/4 cup butter, add sugar and beat until light and fluffy. Add egg and vanilla; beat well. Add sifted ingredients and reliquified instant crystals alternately to egg mixture, mixing well after each addition. Turn into pastry shell. Top with marmalade mixture. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 55 minutes, or until cake tests done.

Fold orange rind into whipped instant crystals. Serve cake warm, topped with whipped instant crystals mixture.

To whip instant nonfat dry milk crystals (Makes about 2 1/2 cups)

1. Mix 1/2 cup instant nonfat dry milk crystals with 1/2 cup ice water.
2. Whip until soft peaks form (3 to 4 minutes). Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice.
3. Continue beating, while gradually adding 1/4 cup sugar, until stiff peaks form (3 to 4 minutes longer).

Questions and Answers

Q—Is there such a thing as red snow?
A—Red snow and green snow have been known to fall in Greenland and a few other Arctic regions. Sometimes snow is colored black. The colors are caused by dust and fungi which the crystals collect as they fall to earth.
Q—Who was the first president to write his message to Congress?
A—Thomas Jefferson.

Veterans Guide

By Veterans Administration

Q—I've only been living in my GI home for a year, and I have to move. I intend to sell the house, but how do I get clear of my liability to A for the unpaid balance of the loan?

A—You can either sell for all cash and pay off the loan or, if the new buyer will take over the unpaid balance, and is an acceptable credit risk to VA, you may obtain a release from liability from the VA. Write to the VA office which processed your loan.

Q—My husband, who was a veteran, died recently leaving me his GI insurance policy and some bills, which I intend to settle as soon as possible. Meanwhile, do his creditors have any right to seize the GI insurance policy in order to get their money right away?

A—No. Proceeds of a GI insurance policy are exempted by law from the claims of creditors. They may not be seized or attached to pay your husband's debts.

Q—I now get retirement pay from the Armed Forces but I am also eligible for disability payments from the VA, although to get them I must make a choice to give up retirement pay. If I make the choice now will it be binding for the rest of my life, or may I change back at some future date?

A—The choice you make now will not be binding for the rest of your life. You have the right to change at any time.

I am a Korea veteran with a service-connected disability. I want to get a GI insurance policy available to disabled Korea veterans. I know that a one-year deadline is involved. Is that one year from the date of my discharge, or one year from the date VA rated my disability?

A—Your deadline is one year from the date A determined your disability to be service-connected.
